

Temporary Protected Status (TPS) Update: June 2023

The Biden Administration announced the rescission of Trump's termination of TPS designations for El Salvador, Honduras, Nepal and Nicaragua, while also announcing an extension of TPS for these countries for 18 months.

What does this mean for current TPS beneficiaries from El Salvador, Honduras, Nepal and Nicaragua? Unlike "previous automatic extensions," which stemmed from the pending Ramos case, current TPS beneficiaries from these countries will now have to register and file for TPS and work permit applications along with their associated fees, during the re-registration period as set forth in the Federal Register Notice (FRN).

- OJO->This is very different from the "automatic extensions" the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) had previously announced to TPS beneficiaries from these countries, as part of their compliance in the Ramos case — where TPS beneficiaries could rely on the Federal Register Notice and their existing (expired) work authorization cards to prove their status.

When do I need to register and file for TPS? If current TPS beneficiaries continue to meet the eligibility requirements for TPS, they must re-register during their respective 60-day re-registration period. Please note DHS is extending the TPS designation of these countries as follows:

- El Salvador- from September 10, 2023 through March 9, 2025. Current beneficiaries must re-register during the 60-day re-registration period from July 12, 2023 through September 10, 2023 (see FRN).
- Honduras- from January 06, 2024 through July 05, 2025. Current beneficiaries must re-register during the 60-day re-registration period from November 06, 2023 through January 05, 2024 (see FRN).
- Nepal- from December 25, 2023 through June 24, 2025. Current beneficiaries must re-register during the 60-day re-registration period from October 24, 2023 through December 23, 2023 (see FRN).
- Nicaragua- from January 06, 2024 through July 05, 2025. Current beneficiaries must re-register during the 60-day re-registration period from November 06, 2023 through January 05, 2024 (see FRN).

What can I do if I have more questions? All directly impacted people should consult with a trusted immigration attorney to explore their options, and come out to our bi-weekly committee meetings to join us in fighting back! Additionally, please refer to our TPS Chart for the latest information on TPS countries and their registration period.
